Pep Up Housing Campaign As F.H.A. Offer Promises Work For All The Jobless

Mass Meeting Arranged To Urge Owners To Modernize Their Old Homes

February has been designated as Better Housing Month in Sierra Madre, and a mass meeting of merchants, contractors, craftsmen and home owners will be staged to pep up the housing campaign. Awaiting first reports from the canvassers now gathering statistics of the city's housing needs, J. S. Billheimer, head of the F.H.A. general committee, has completed organization of sub-committees to function at the close of the survey.

The Housing Campaign presents an opportunity to eliminate old shacks, dilapidated homes of the yesteryear. It is hoped that a sort of "block pride" will induce all home owners to improve property, so that the general average may be increased and lead to advanced values in the neighborhood.

"Let your home be as new and modern as your neighbors," is the slogan. In this way the City Planning Commission's greater beauty plan will make Sierra Madre unique among California home communities.

THE NEWS, with the cooperation of the merchants and contractors, will publish a special Better Housing issue in the near future in an effort to impress on the public the full import of the F.H.A. campaign.

At a general committee meeting in the City Hall yesterday morning Herbert T. Muzzy, field representative working out of the Los Angeles F.H.A. headquarters, impressed on committee chairmen that the completion of the house to house survey spells only the commencement of the permanent features of the drive.

"The mere list of figures gathered by the S.E.R.A. workers," he said, "will not begin to represent the actual value of the program. Some of the smallest jobs will turn out to be the largest. When home owners contract to secure F.H.A. loans to reroof their houses, they may be so well pleased that they will go ahead with more extensive improvement. Many persons now unable to make any improvement at all will find themselves more happily situated during the coming year, and remember the F.H.A. plan."

In explaining how the campaign is a benefit to the entire community, Muzzy said that every carpenter, painter and similar workman will be given an equal chance in securing the employment resulting from the campaign program. Every worker will be registered in the City Hall headquarters of the local F.H.A. committee, and selected for jobs by blind numbers in rotation.

"Every business in Sierra Madre," Muzzy said, "can benefit directly from the National Housing Act. Immediate benefit will come to merchants adopting aggressive sales and advertising programs.

"The advertising angle cannot be slighted if the results of the program are to live up to expectations. Nobody with something to sell can take it for granted the whole town knows all about it. Advertising done today will net bigger returns than ever before."

"Remember the slogan: 'There is nothing so powerful as an idea whose time has come!'"

Stress Need To Advertise The City Now

Forum Told This Is Best Possible Time To Boost Sierra Madre

A plan to raise funds for publication of a new Sierra Madre booklet publicizing the city's many attractions by means of a public entertainment under S.E.R.A. auspices, was presented to the Forum Tuesday night by W. R. Humphries.

Although admission cannot be charged to performances given by musicians and actors under the S.E.R.A., it is thought that through voluntary contributions from the audience the necessary amount could be raised. Humphries stated that he felt confident that all civic minded organizations and individuals in the city would lend support to the plan.

"Now is the best possible time," he said, "to boost the city. More visitors are coming here than ever before at this time, more building is being started, and restored confidence is being manifested by small home owners and big business men alike."

In the absence of the two scheduled speakers of the evening, Lee Shippey and George K. Roth, the meeting was devoted to open Forum discussion of the working of the self-help Co-ops and their relationship to the S.E.R.A. Dean Arnold G. Bode, present Forum head, summarized the history of the Co-ops, and told how the organizations suffered from political interference.

The government, he said, is now making an effort to put them back on their feet by financing various unit industries such as canning, gardening, welding and the like.

Mrs. George B. Morgridge reviewed a magazine article pertaining to the recent Congressional report on the sales in the munitions business, which pointed to an international "racket" of deadly magnitude.

CLARAMAE STAMM, LOCAL ARTIST, TO GIVE RECITAL AT THE HUNTINGTON HOTEL

By Mildred Curtis Bolms

MUSIC LOVERS of Sierra Madre will have an opportunity of hearing one of the Southland's well-known artists, and her own gifted citizen in a forthcoming concert to be given at the Hotel Huntington in Pasadena, Tuesday evening, January 29, at 8:30 o'clock.

Claramae Wilson-Stamm, who has long been identified with the musical life of Southern California and has brought her art to its present eminent fruition, owes much of her achievement to her master-teacher, Waldor Chase, of Los Angeles, under whose tutelage she has been for a number of years.

On Tuesday, the artist will display her complete grasp of the noble work of the master Brahms in the rendering of his Santa-Opus 5 to which vehicle seems to unite her soul with that of the eloquent composer's.

In the Andante, where 'Now gleams in the gloaming the pale moonlight,'

"And there two loving hearts unite in ecstasy bound together," to which Miss Stamm glides with a poetic caress from the surging grandeur of the first movement, this deep recognition of the master is definitely expressed.

Miss Stamm, who is, also, an sionists school, has included in her Tuesday program, the iridescent compositions of Debussy. And here, again, the power and individuality of the pianist are apparent in her capture of the subtle suggestiveness of the French compositions.

Perhaps the following quotation taken from the Los Angeles Times on the occasion of a concert given a number of years ago will serve as an illustration.

"One felt through the whole recital, which was different in many ways from any recent recital, that the artist was working for a more profound mood, a deeper appreciation of tonal beauties than for mere technical display. It was one of the few recitals where a person felt no great temptation toward an overworked use of the word brilliance. Instead it offered to a large extent a series of tonal results."

Among those who will be in the receiving line on Tuesday night are Dean and Mrs. Arnold Bode, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shippey, Mrs. Fred Griebenow, Miss Elizabeth Morgridge, and Mrs. L. C. Denny.

Tickets are on sale at Hartmans Drug Store.

Expect A New Postmaster Here Shortly

At Least Four Active Candidates For Place Now Held By Mrs. Wright

Mrs. Jessica H. Wright's term of office as postmistress here expired Tuesday, her appointment having been made under the Republican administration twelve and a half years ago.

Speculations as to Mrs. Wright's successor, in the event that she herself does not secure a reappointment, centered about four

Mrs. Wright Sierra Madreans known to have applied for the position prior to the Roosevelt inauguration. Of these three are long time residents, R. O. Caukin, W. J. Schiltz and Woodson F. Jones. The fourth, Mrs. M. B. Hotchkiss, established residence at Belle Vue Court shortly after the present administration was voted into power.

In accordance with postal rules Mrs. Wright will continue her duties until the present vacancy is officially filled by appointment. The Civil Service Commission will post a notice in the post office announcing the date for the usual civil service examination to qualify an appointee.

It is probable, however, that the office will be filled by direct appointment from the president, on recommendation from Congressman McGroarty with Senate ratification. In such a case the Post Office department would appoint an acting postmaster to serve without an examination until instructed to take one. This procedure has been most generally followed by the present administration.

Congressman Reports On Pension Bill

By JOHN S. MCGROARTY
Member of Congress for 11th California District

Editor's Note: This is the second of Congressman McGroarty's Weekly Letters to the people of this district.

WASHINGTON, D. C. On Wednesday, January 16th, I introduced in the House of Representatives an Old Age Pension Bill which was cited as the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan. It is the bill approved by Dr. Townsend himself and his advisors in Congress, many of whom are lawyers of high standing.

Printed copies of the bill with the familiar provisions of the Townsend Plan are in the hands of each Representative. The battle is on and we are poised to meet it with what energy, faith and devotion we can summon.

A vicious attack was made on the bill already on the floor of the House by Representative Thomas L. Blanton, of Abilene, Texas. He held up the measure to ridicule and declared himself unalterably opposed to it. However, it remains to be seen whether or not the Honorable Blanton may change his mind. One way to cause him to change his mind is for all Texans, residing in California, to go after him in the mail and by telegraph.

The day following my introduction of the Bill in the House a message was received from the President of the United States covering a long list of requests for legislation to carry out his plans and policies. When the message touched upon the subject of old age pensions the President made it clear to everybody familiar with the provisions of the Townsend Plan that the President has another idea altogether concerning old age pensions.

Now what will happen? Unless a Bill is introduced in the House to carry out the President's Old Age Pension Plan, which, according to the best information to be secured, will not propose a pension exceeding $30.00 per month, then it will be 30 days or more before our Townsend Bill can be brought to the floor of the House for debate and action.

If the committee, after thirty days, fails to send the bill to the House, then we shall have to secure the signatures of 218 members to discharge the committee as far as this bill is concerned, and thus bring it to the House for debate and action. The new rule requiring 218 signatures of members to replace the old rule requiring only 145 signatures is, of course, in the nature of a "gag" rule.

Add 12 Days Racing For Local Track

Board Extends Meeting Despite San Diego Plea For Caliente

Santa Anita's race meeting will continue until March 9th as the result of the State Horse Racing Board's approval of the Turf Club's extension request. Originally chalked to close with the $100,000 Handicap February 23, the track will operate an additional two weeks during which time there will be no purse of less than $1,000. In addition the track will tempt the leading stables by the offer of one $10,000 stake or two $5,000 stakes.

At the racing board meeting Tuesday a delegation of San Diego city officials presented arguments in favor of Agua Caliente and heatedly declared that the Caliente track would be urged to start racing immediately in direct competition with Santa Anita. Caliente had hoped to open a meeting immediately after February 23 without competition.

Pointing out that California is not directly benefited financially by Caliente, Chairman Carleton Burke stated that the board was obligated to allow the agreed upon 150 days of racing in the State. The State, he said, received a percentage of money wagered at Santa Anita, whereas no revenue is derived from the border track, which takes money out of the country.

Santa Anita's request for a summer meeting, from May 30 to July 6 was denied on the ground that the board believed the extension of the present schedule will give Southern California a sufficiency of racing until next winter.

The board fixed prices for the great Santa Anita Handicap to be run February 23 at $1.10 for admission to the infield; $3.30 for the terrace and temporary unreserved stands to be erected; $4.40 for reserved seats in the grandstand and $5.50 for admission to the clubhouse. The race is for the greatest purse and has attracted the greatest list of entries ever carded for a turf event.

Senator Olson, Los Angeles Democrat, introduced a bill in the Senate this week amending the State Horse Racing Act to increase the State's take on the pari-mutuel wagering from 4 to 6 percent. Olson proposed that the extra 2 percent be allocated to the states general fund.

Germany Is 90 Per Cent Behind Hitler Kiwanians Are Told

By Roy Pickett

Dr. D. Brewer Eddy, of Boston, Mass., was our guest speaker at Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at our regular luncheon meeting.

Having recently returned from a world tour, he was able to give us an exceedingly interesting description of world conditions, touching on the political, economic, religious and general condition of each country visited. Dr. Eddy estimated Germany to be at least 90 per cent behind Hitler.

That atheism and not communism, was Russia's problem—that China was the fastest moving country in the world today, not giving much time and money to railroad building, but instead to the development of paved roads so that busses and trucks are the leading transportation facilities. China is going in for airplanes and is establishing airlines to many points.

Dr. Eddy stressed the point that world trade must be re-established and increased in order to put general business conditions back to par.

The Kiwanis Club is very grateful to Rev. A. O. Pritchard for bringing such a noted speaker to us.

Noted Christian Science Lecturer Speaks Here Sunday

The public is cordially invited to attend a free lecture on "Christian Science: The Science and Art of Spiritual Living," to be given by William E. Brown, C.S.B., of Los Angeles, on Sunday evening, January 27, at 8 o'clock in the Sierra Madre grammar school auditorium, under the auspices of the Sierra Madre Christian Science church.

Gray, Wanted Here, Taken In El Centro On Check Charge

Murray A. Gray, wanted in Sierra Madre to answer on a bad check charge, was apprehended by El Centro police Tuesday in the act of cashing a check said to be worthless in that city. According to Chief of Police McMillan, Gray has been turned over to San Diego authorities to stand trial on a felony warrant there, and will not be returned to Sierra Madre until after the case there is disposed of.

Women Here Grow Thin On Secret Diet

Reducing Club Head Writes Book With Title "This Business Of Eating"

Convinced after a successful reducing campaign with 24 well known Sierra Madre women as his subjects—all of whom give lissome evidence of the "counting calories diet," Frank W. Bower, of Sierra Madre, is about to publish a book, with the title "This Business Of Eating," so that his secret of healthful reducing may go out to the world. The book is about to go on the press of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS. It contains carefully prepared data on vitamins, and a food chart embracing over one thousand foods.

One of the absorbing features of the book is a description of how the members of the Sierra Madre Reducing Club shed weight with ease without departing from appetizing foods. The club was organized last September. The 24 women met once a week at the home of one of the members. All of them carried excess weight at the beginning, but it was not long before most of them were "perfect thirty-eights." The club idea for getting rid of the surplus—mass production vs. mass reduction, was conceived by the author.

It was an easy matter to get a class started. Each member was weighed upon enrollment and a questionnaire was filled in for a class record, which, for one thing, gave the number of calories that were being consumed in the daily menu; also the weight of the member and the history of the case.

In most cases the total calorie count was a revelation. One member found that she had been consuming 3500 calories as a daily average and her weight had crept up to 217 pounds. She immediately cut down the calorie total and the "mass reduction" began forthwith.

This cutting down of the calories was done by all the class members very successfully, some

Billheimer Is Reelected Head Of C C

J. S. Billheimer was named to serve a second term as president of the local Chamber of Commerce at the organization's meeting here last week, while Milton Hollingsworth was named vice-president and Roy C. Copenhaver, secretary-treasurer.

A committee to appoint various sub-committees was named as follows: Hollingsworth, chairman; Billheimer, Copenhaver, and Mrs. Jessica H. Wright. These members will cooperate with the Chamber's representation in the Federal Housing Administration's better housing campaign in Sierra Madre.

Capt. E. G. Everett asked that the Chamber of Commerce aid in securing protective signs and curbs on dangerous turns on Canyon Park roads.

Appeals For Relief Will Be Heard Here

All persons receiving aid under the County Relief Administration wishing advice as to adjustments or emergencies concerning family cases, may report to the City Hall Monday afternoon, January 28, between 1:30 and 3 o'clock. At that time Mrs. Mary Smith, district visitor for the relief administration will hear all cases reporting to her. She will be stationed here every Monday at the same time.

Canyon Tax Strikers Lose By Court Decision Upholding Mattoon Act

U.S. Supreme Judges Settle Controversy And City Can Collect

By the United States Supreme Court's decision Monday upholding the constitutionality of the Mattoon act, this city gained the final legal right to collect outstanding tax levies in the Sierra Madre Canyon special improvement district.

Plan Beauty Lane To City On New Road

Supervisors Asked To Supply Trees For Central Avenue Extension

Progress in the plan to gain for Sierra Madre a widespread reputation as the most beautiful and picturesque home city in Southern California advanced this week when the City Planning Commission announced that the Board of Supervisors will be petitioned to supply shrubs and trees from the county nursery for the beautification of West Central avenue extension through the Hastings Ranch. The supervisors are expected to favor the idea as a similar plan has already been sponsored for the beautification of Foothill Boulevard between Monrovia and Glendora.

The intention of the planning group is to have the roadway approaching the city beautified in a natural manner with sycamore trees and shrubbery blending in with the surroundings. It is proposed to employ S.E.R.A. labor.

The city of Glendale has also promoted a project to beautify a 1,000-foot parkway with deodar trees, which the city hopes will eventually form a Christmas tree lane similar to the famous Altadena mile of Christmas trees. Glendale citizens have contributed 25-foot high trees which are being planted by the city.

The Supervisors have before them an extensive plan of beautification. County Forester Turner has been directed to make a survey to determine the possibility of county highway beautification with various shrubs. Supervisor Roger Jessup, stated that in addition to the splendid appearance that would be accomplished, hundreds of now unemployed could be put to work.

As soon as the survey by the forester is completed it will be presented to the Board of Supervisors for their final answer.

Mrs. John H. Osgood, secretary of the local Planning Commission, announced at Tuesday's Forum meeting, that next Tuesday's Forum at the City Hall will be devoted to the subject of beautification and planting of the West Central avenue extension. William Fox, chief engineer of the County Regional Planning Commission, and Frances Duncan Manning, secretary of the Southern California Horticultural Association, will be the chief speakers.

"Since the Board of Supervisors gave unanimous approval to the project of landscape treatment of highways, the planting of the Central avenue strip stands a fine chance of completion," Mrs. Osgood said. "In comparison with many other work projects the cost will be very slight."

"Our highways, especially those near Sierra Madre, could be among the loveliest in the United States, and now when it is necessary to find work for men is a marvelous time to make them so."

Change In Garbage Collectors Will Improve Service

A garbage collection contract for the current year was let by the City Council Wednesday night to W. D. Hollins, of Monrovia. Hollins has held the Monrovia contract for 10 years, and his work there is reported as being good. His bid for $60 a month, was the second lowest submitted, the lowest bid being by the old contractors whose services were unsatisfactory to the city.

The Council also approved issuance of a permit to the Forest Service for erection of a single telephone line down Sierra Madre avenue from the mountain area.

and conclusive legal answer to Canyon Park taxpayers who a year and a half ago brought suit against the city on the grounds that the City had illegally levied an amount in excess of the tax requirement of that year for the purpose of building up a reserve. At that time the California Supreme Court upheld the city's right to levy the extra assessment amounting to approximately $3200.

Originally drafted as an emergency measure whereby cities might proceed with street improvement unhindered by excessive red tape, the act was employed here as a means of securing much needed road work in the canyon district. Property owners were elated over the prospect of the improvement, but when tax time fell due a number of them complained at the procedure of the Mattoon act.

Several taxpayers in the canyon district in effect declared a tax strike on the possibility that a U. S. Supreme Court ruling would free them of obligation by declaring the Mattoon act unconstitutional, now are definitely held responsible for due and delinquent taxes.

The clause in the act which caused most of the dissatisfaction, provided for accumulative levies to cover delinquencies, thus empowering the city to add one year's special assessment district deficit to the next year's tax roll. This portion of the act was scored by certain taxpayers as shifting the entire district tax burden onto the shoulders of the few. But the city contends no such injustice results—delinquencies being penalized 8 percent for the first half and 3 percent for the second half, and the base of the source of assessment being equalized in the course of time.

County tax authorities, summarizing the Supreme Court's decision on the act, states that the decision means:

1. That obligations incurred under the act remain in full force and effect, although the law was repealed by the State Legislature in 1933.

2. That such obligations apply, generally, to all taxable land, in an improvement district, within the provisions of the act.

3. That the bonds issued, although in many cases virtually worthless, are nevertheless valid.

4. That accumulative or pyramided levies may be made upon all lands lying within the improvement district for the purpose of paying the debts of the district.

5. That no constitutional guarantee is violated by such legal levies, no matter when they are made.

6. That bondholders are entitled to have levies made so long as the bonded debt remains unpaid, regardless of change of title.

7. That lands upon which annual levies of special assessment taxes are made are subject to sale in the same way as properties are declared delinquent and sold for general taxes.

Another peculiarity of the act, approved in the court decision, is that under its terms the special districts' bonded indebtedness cannot be paid off in advance, but must be met payment by payment as under the original terms.

Property Moving Quickly Now; More Sales Are Reported

Property is moving quickly in Sierra Madre. Within a few days after the former Oscar Rasbach home at 132 South Hermosa avenue, was acquired by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Corlett, the latter resold this week to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Hickok, of Los Angeles and Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Hickok, who were winter residents here a year ago, plan to make their future home here. The entire transaction was made through the office of Mrs. Nora M. Mesecar, Kersting Court.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. McGuire, of Los Angeles, have purchased three lots in Pogier Park through W. R. Humphries, realtor, West Central avenue, and will start building on their property at once. Another sale reported by Mr. Humphries is the purchase by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Solnit, of 326 Adams street, north of their present holdings. They will beautify the lot and use it as additional gardens to their home.

HEADS UP!

By DR. WM. J. CARRINGTON
President Kiwanis International

We are in a new year with a new spirit. Today is the tomorrow we worried about yesterday and it did not happen. The people of our two great nations are throwing their shoulders back. More of us have survived than in any year in the past. Mortality and morbidity rates were never lower. More of us need help and more help is given. More boys and girls are in school beyond the compulsory age. More of us practice the unaccustomed art of thinking. More of us live simply and contentedly within our means. More of us are civic-minded and exercise the rights of franchise. More of us, on this continent, are free from the hot flames of nationalism.

In post-war days there was material prosperity but spiritual poverty. Kiwanis saw economic clouds gathering on the horizon and hoisted a warning signal "to give primacy to the human and spiritual, rather than to the material values of life." But we plunged ahead into an orgy of spending and a saturnalia of jazz. That is over now.

What does Kiwanis see ahead in the shifting shapes of fog? Visibility is still low, but Kiwanis sees our nation rebuilding, not upon the ruins of materialism but upon solid, imperishable foundations that have endured down through the ages—faith, hope and love. Today Kiwanis sees clearing skies through the mist.

Heads up, 1935!

Quaint Letter From Far Away Hungary Brings Token, Love, And Scrap Book To Junior Red Cross School Members

From far away and strangely named Kiskundorozsma, Hungary, came the following quaintly phrased letter addressed to the Sierra Madre grammar school members of the Junior Red Cross. It was written by a girl called Margit Takacs, who is the Junior President of the Red Cross organization in her Hungarian public school, and accompanied a scrap book made by her schoolmates for the entertainment and education of the American children here.

"Dear foreign friends," the note reads, "The sun here is shining brightly. Spring is driving the ruffled clouds with a whip of blossoms. And we, in spirit, fly to you and thank you for the nice portfolio you sent us last year. We have made our answer with much love . . . There is a collection of medicinal herbs to be found here; some patterns of needlework in national style . . . Remember that every single line was drawn in affectionate remembrance of you . . . Although the miles and a vast ocean divide us, we reach you our hand in the spirit of friendship. (Signed) Margit."

In the book itself are pages devoted to water color drawings of native Hungarian plants and flowers, a picture titled, "We pray for our ancient country," an illustrated verse, "Folk song about the windmill of Dorozsma." More prosaic are several sketches to prove that Hungarian children, like Americans, are trained to wash their hands, be tidy and brush their teeth. Photographs show the schoolhouse, and town church.

In exchange, Sierra Madre pupils are preparing folios of California scenes and customs. The sixth grade children are now at work on a scrapbook depicting the many interesting phases of the San Pedro harbor district, while the fourth graders are preparing a collection of drawings and clippings having to do with the innumerable California industries. Miss Florence Lusted, head of the school's art department, is directing the art work on the project, and the various regular classroom instructors are combining other phases in the routine class room study.

Tomorrow (Saturday) a number of local children and teachers will attend the Junior Red Cross meeting at the Civic Auditorium in Pasadena. The session will start at 9:30 a.m. and continue until noon, and Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal here, will be one of the chief speakers, outlining the Sierra Madre group's splendid methods and achievements in the elementary division.

True Detective Story by Vance Wynn © Public Ledger

Tale of the Poisoned Dagger

THIRTY years ago a number of men and women were murdered in the suburbs near Shanghai. It was discovered that most of the victims had been killed by means of a poisoned dagger.

At the same time chapels and churches belonging to the foreign missionary societies were destroyed. Demands for satisfaction came from state departments in all parts of the world, and as a consequence the Chinese government endeavored to ascertain the culprits and to punish them.

The official placed in charge of the investigation was Foo Wang, who at the time enjoyed the reputation of being the Sherlock Holmes of China. He was patient, he was resourceful, and he never went after "his man" without getting him.

One of the things he found near the scene of the crimes was a bit of calico stamped with a number of Chinese characters.

He knew that it was a certificate of membership in a famous secret society known as the Ko Lao Hui.

This society was originally formed to battle with Chinese officials who practiced extortion upon the natives—and they were as numerous as the autumn leaves in Vallambrosa—but later its objects became anti-foreign and anti-missionary.

Foo Wang went to his home and got out his great pipe and sat down and thought.

And he finally came to the conclusion that the particular bit of calico that he had picked up belonged to Chen-kin-Lung, who was one of the most conspicuous of the Ko Lao Hui leaders.

China is a pretty big place, but Foo Wang had plenty of assistants to rely upon, and he sent them to the four corners of the Celestial empire with instructions to locate the supposed leader.

Eventually he discovered that the man he wanted was at an inn near Peking, and that with him were about twenty of his followers, all desperate men.

Foo Wang decided that it was about time for a round-up and he gathered his men together for that purpose.

He found the leader in one of the rooms of the place giving an entertainment to his supporters.

The Chinese detective was nothing if not original.

He posted himself upon the veranda of the Inn and then sent one of his men in to tell Chen-kin-Lung that he was wanted outside on important business.

The unsuspecting leader excused himself to his friends with true celestial gravity and stepped out on the veranda.

As he did so a great bag was thrown over his head, two men seized him and he was carried, kicking and gesticulating, to a nearby wharf and placed on a vessel.

There, bound and gagged, he was taken in the direction of Shanghai.

Just before the boat reached its destination the detectives brought the suspect into the cabin and put him through the third degree—which means something in China.

But while Chen-kin-Lung might have been down he was far from being out.

He smiled his inscrutable smile—and said nothing.

They literally put the screws upon him but failed to elicit the slightest information.

In the flowing sleeves of one of his kimonos was found a dagger with a poisoned blade.

It had the appearance of being the weapon with which the Shanghai murders had been committed.

Also the investigators found a number of letters and communications addressed to the prisoner.

In each of them he was addressed as the "Eighth Great Prince."

This was proof positive that he was at the head of the secret society and that he undoubtedly aimed at securing the control of the country.

Among the other things found were a number of the calico certificates indicating membership in the Ko Lao Hui.

Koo Wang now had more than enough evidence to send his distinguished prisoner to the block.

But he wanted to get the names of others and he besought the prisoner to make a clean breast of the whole conspiracy.

But Chen-kin-Lung was a wise Chinaman and he knew that he was sure to be beheaded.

So he remained silent. He was returned to the hold of the vessel and told that he would be given until the next morning to make a complete revelation of his mysterious society.

But the next morning he was gone—mysteriously—and nothing was ever heard of him afterward.

In A Social Way

Miss J. Frances Emans and Miss Helen Hughes were dinner guests of Miss Cecil Sterling Price, at her home, 279 East Grand View avenue, on Tuesday evening. Miss Emans is a practicing attorney in Los Angeles and was the guest speaker for the Business and Professional Women's Club later in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Vickers of 279 East Grand avenue, entertained their nephew, Elden Cunningham and wife from Kansas City, Mo., at a birthday luncheon on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham visited Southern California two years ago and returned this winter with the idea of making it their permanent home. Mr. Cunningham has been connected with the Neuman Theatre in Kansas City for the past 14 years.

Misses Eleanor Phillips, Marion Daily, Frances Olds and Cynthia Hull attended a surprise miscellaneous shower given by the Mapha club for Miss Eleanor Gregg of Monrovia, Saturday, at the home of Miss Kay McFarlane in Pasadena Glen. Miss Gregg will be married in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mercer, of 258 Adams street, entertained with a dinner party on January 10 in honor of their 46th wedding anniversary. Among those present were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Hays, and grandchildren, Miss Ruth A. Allen of Sierra Madre, and Mercer Duff, of Battle Creek, Mich.

Celebrating the birthdays of Bill Goff and Mrs. Charles L. Corbett and in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brown, Jr., who were recently married, Mrs. Bill Goff entertained with a dinner party on Saturday evening at her home, 694 Sunnyside Lane. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of Pasadena.

Canyon friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cobb, of Long Beach, entertained them with a luncheon on Friday, when they came to Sierra Madre to spend the day.

Mrs. Webster W. Vannier entertained with a lovely luncheon and contract bridge party at her home, 131 Bonita avenue, on Thursday. Guests included Mrs. A. E. Gordeau, Mrs. H. Randolph Wood, Mrs. W. C. Bonsall, Misses Hazel and Jean Woodward, Mrs. C. E. Allen and Miss Marion Vannier, of Sierra Madre, and Mrs. Louise Simmons, Mrs. Robert Strehle, of Claremont, and Mrs. Herman Nixon, of Altadena.

A waffle luncheon was given by Miss Ruth Kelleher at her home, 184 West Montecito avenue, last Tuesday in honor of the birthday of Miss Eunice Albrecht.

Miss Olive Smith, of San Francisco, and Gustave Rihard, well-known pianist, of Pasadena, were united in marriage at a quiet ceremony at the Episcopal Church in Alhambra, December 29. The wedding culminated a romance which began while Miss Smith was studying voice in Pasadena. Mr. and Mrs. Rihard are at home to their friends in Pasadena.

A surprise party was given on Wednesday evening in honor of the 28th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Howland, of 426 North Auburn avenue, by their children.

BITTER BATTLE OVER STATE'S "FIXED CHARGES" LOOMS AS LEGISLATURE GETS TO WORK

By Ralph H. Taylor
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

SHALL the California Legislature have the right to reduce and regulate all State expenditures, including school costs?

Around that question, in all probability, will rage one of the bitterest battles of the 1935 Legislature.

And if the Legislature finally answers "Yes" by voting for the abolition of so-called "fixed charges," or continuing appropriations, legislative action will be followed by a battle royal at the next general election to determine the attitude of California voters on the issue.

In the Legislature first blows already have been struck, with Senator Ralph Swing of San Bernardino—author of a constitutional amendment to abolish all "fixed charges"—claiming that there can be no real economy in State expenditures until continuing appropriations are eliminated.

Advancing the contention that State costs should always be held within State incomes, Senator Swing declares, in support of his amendment, that more than 72 per cent of all State expenditures, at the present time, are "fixed" by the constitution, or statute, and are therefore inflexible. When State revenues fluctuate, he insists, the Legislature should have the power to make quick adjustments in State outgo.

In principle there can be no dispute of the soundness of Senator Swing's proposal. Continuing appropriations—voted by the people, and subject to repeal or reduction only by a second vote of the people—have undoubtedly been a major factor in the rapid and almost inescapable increase in governmental costs.

But the opponents of the Swing amendment insist—and not without cause—that legislative practice must be balanced against legislative theories in reaching a fair determination of the issue.

By far the largest item in the list of "fixed charges" against the State's general fund is the continuing appropriation for the support of California's public schools. And continuous, orderly support of the schools—based on school attendance and actual school needs—is a primary requisite of any efficient, successful school system, according to the educational group.

Abolition of the continuing appropriation for the schools, this group asserts, would make educational appropriations subject to political log-rolling, jockeying and vote-trading at every session of the Legislature. They further declare that it would force school people into politics, making it necessary to elect legislators definitely pledged to a fair school program, and that irreparable damage would be done to the schools, due to the uncertainty regarding school appropriations.

"No school system can function efficiently on a hit-or-miss system of appropriations," says Sam H. Cohn, deputy State director of education. "The Swing amendment might very well result in a 7-month school term one year, a 10-month term the next and the closing of many schools entirely. It would make a political football of school appropriations and such a system is far more dangerous than the 'fixed charge' system."

Many Events Call CE Society Members

MEMBERS of the local societies are asked to plan going to Los Angeles Sunday afternoon for the county union's General Assembly to be held at the First Presbyterian church, Figueroa and Twentieth streets, starting at 2:30. Long Beach division is to furnish the music while the speaker is to come from the Alhambra Christian church.

Tonight Rev. S. R. Sheriff and Merrill Smith, Pasadena division's pastoral counselor and vice-president respectively, will attend the council meeting while Monday evening, all officers and department directors of C.E. societies in this division will be expected to be present at the executive meeting. These meetings are becoming especially important now with the rapid approach of the time for the county union's convention in the Crown City on May 3, 4 and 5.

The social which the junior high society had planned for tonight was tentatively postponed until the following week when they may celebrate Christian Endeavor's 54th birthday.

Loyalty to the church will be stressed in the two societies meeting in Bethany hall—Nipponese and Junior high, while the Young People in the rotunda will have a missionary meeting in charge of that department headed by Roy Edwards. All three services should start at 6:15, preceded by pre-prayer circles.

All Endeavorers who are members of Bethany Church are urged to turn out for the church's annual business meeting next Wednesday evening in Bethany Hall. Reports of Christian Endeavor and other departments are to be presented and various other departments are to be presented and various officers elected.

Navy Announces When And How You May Visit The Fleet

Visiting days aboard the U.S. Navy craft anchored off Long Beach are Saturday and Sunday afternoons only, officials of the fleet state, and any unit open to the public may be visited by boarding Navy shore-boats without cost. At the Long Beach Navy landing parking space is available for hundreds of cars, and this is also a free convenience.

There are three types of fighting craft which the public may visit: aeroplane carriers, battle-ships and cruisers. At present the Saratoga is the only aeroplane carrier here, the Lexington having left recently for northern waters.

PRESIDENT Stinman presented a beautiful gavel, made by her husband, to the Baldwin Park Juniors at their installation. This is the first new group to be formed under her district leadership. A total of 26 were enrolled.

"Not to fail our president," is our goal for the next district meeting. We are asked to turn out 100 percent unless sickness prevents, and go to Monterey Park, January 31st at 8 p.m. Let's have a good representation from Sierra Madre Unit 297.

With heather and fernery our gracious hostesses decorated for the last unit meeting. One of Mrs. Grace Calkins' famous salads beggared all description.

Lucile Johnson being co-hostess started a round table of gossip which proved to be very amusing, as well as bearing out the old saying, "bad news travels fast, gathering dirt as it goes."

Lucile Sparks and Marjorie Stinman have been quite ill, but are improving now. Others on the sick list are Mrs. Augusta Coats, Miss Laird and Mrs. Lee High. We hope to see them out at our next meeting on February 14th.

Anyone wishing to donate woolen pieces for the wheel-chair robes may call 259-2 or 301. Sorry to have omitted this in THE NEWS last week.

Minnie Stinman, our perpetual secretary, comments on the column, saying, quote "Two years ago district censured our news, last year my column was criticized as not being newsy. Now, it will be interesting to find what will be wrong with yours this year." We admit it isn't good, but we have a lot of fun reading it anyway, to say nothing of writing it.

PEN SLANTS

By John Copeland

I'M NOT the one to tell this story. Let the characters dish it out themselves. Then they can't get sore at me. Maybe the best way to start is to let the town have its say. Hillstown, I'll nick her, and you can argue all you want . . .

HILLSTOWN

Before Xmas I was a quiet hamlet, but that was before Santa Claus dropped a racetrack in my sister's sock. I'm nutty now. Poor Hillbillie that I was—I used to talk through my nose, and now I talk "on the nose."

JUDGEADAM

She was pretty, Marcelled tail, a coat that shined like your Aunt Minnie's mahogany tea table, and quicksilver springs in all four ankles. In fact, she's the prettiest filly I ever see—until she starts to run. They ought to handicap that turtle with a midget, and save her for the flower show. I had a red hot tip, too!

SCOTTYROBINSON

My missus tells me either I buy her a new winter fur, or a one way ticket to Reno. If I am sap enough to take another bum steer from that shine at Number 5 gate I won't have enough left to stake myself to a new mattress for the doghouse. Yesterday I pledged myself to stick to Coucci straight thru, but as usual the snowball meets me at the gate. It's all fixed, he says, for Bunion Hound to coast through in the seventh and pay 30 to 1. The last highball makes this sound like a very alluring proposition. Bunion Hound is in serious danger of being trampled to death when he is overtaken in the stretch by Lame Dodo—a plater who struggles through to win the eighth race. However, I am told by reliable people that Bunion Hound is being held under wraps until next Saturday, so if I can hit somebody for a ten spot before then . . . etc.

EUGENE HILLIGER

Yeh, mister, this's a swell day for the races awright . . . Naw, I don't bet. I'm not a betting man. I like to look at the crowd. . . . Now sometimes I mark my programs like this, see? Then maybe I win or maybe I lose, but it's all theoretical. I do pretty good. So far today I am sixty bucks to the good . . . If I bet of course. Look, I picked Zephyr and Sour Skate to win . . . and Best Luck to place in the third . . . Sure, I'll give you my hunch for the sixth. Let's see, now, I've got Horrid Helen checked here for a romp . . . You're welcome . . . Say, wait a minute, I'll stroll over to the tote window with you. Why don't I bet myself? Say, that wouldn't be such a bad idea . . . I'm not a betting man ordinarily, but this's different. This's sure dough . . .

Don't blame me, mister, maybe it was something she et. I've seen her go faster than that with 150 pounds of trainer on her back. . .

HANK SPENDER

Now, dear, don't carry on so. I'm only going over to Monrovia for a couple hours and I'll be home by 6 o'clock. Of course I have to and of course I remember this is our first anniversary. No, I wouldn't think of stopping in that place on the way home, and besides they're not all bums who hang around there. No, I'm not taking any money with me—just a few dollars in case I run out of gas . . . You hope I win for a change? Why honey . . .

BUNION HOUND

What do those guys expect? They should form an overnight expert club. Hey, Helen, I'll give you a nosebag of oats against a barley omelette that Cavalcade gets seasick swimming to the wire in the big handicap . . . Money on ME! Don't be silly. I'm not feeling my oats clear down to my pocketbook . . .

L'ENVOI

The sunset is as well as a check from the publishers. They swiped a piece out of Crater Lake, and tossed it into a bed of opal flakes and purple feathers, and half the town is out just looking. Along comes this Hilliger guy, and takes a squint. "If the track is as smooth as that tomorrow," he chokes, "my baby will win with flatirons braided in her tail." The town is nuts. Completely nuts . . . even me.

BOULDER DAM POWER

TO EDISON CONSUMERS:

For more than forty years the Southern California Edison Company has been the electrical backbone of Southern California. We have anticipated your electrical needs and we have met them unfailingly. Boulder Dam power is now being added to our resources.

The power from the Colorado River will take the place on our system of the ample reserve generating capacity which in the interest of growth and continuity of service we have always maintained.

This added reserve power will flow into our existing network of transmission and distribution lines, making its contribution to the welfare and development of the most highly electrified empire in the world—our own Southern California.

Harry J. Bauer
PRESIDENT

SURPLUS POWER NOW READY

To the present capacity of twenty-three hydro-electric and five steam generating plant units now operated by the Southern California Edison Company will soon be added new energy from Boulder Dam. Behind its vast expanse of concrete the waters must rise for many months before the first turbine will turn the falling flood into flowing current.

Immediately Available

Meanwhile, with this added reserve in prospect, the present surplus capacity of the Edison system becomes immediately available under most advantageous conditions.

Progress is made in steps—not leaps. Your next step is into the domestic wholesale rate for current. You cannot get this rate for lighting service alone, because lighting with modern lamps uses so little current that it is almost negligible, even with illumination at the highest point.

As Low As 1c Per Kilowatt Hour

The domestic wholesale rate begins when you install and use an electric range and an electric water heater. With these your rate continues to drop until it becomes only ONE CENT PER KILOWATT HOUR. At this point, $8.75 pays for current that would otherwise cost $22.50, and you have all the benefits that come with complete electrical service.

Sooner or later you are going to enjoy complete electrical service. Why later? It is yours, by right, now, on the new and higher standard of California living. You know its benefits, and have promised them to yourselves, when the time came. The time is here. Equipment costs were never lower. Financial assistance is available through the National Housing Act. Dealers offer easy payment plans by which for as low as $3.89 per month you can get the equipment that will reduce the unit cost of current on all your lighting and electrical devices.

Act Now

Ask your Edison office for full information on how to get from two and one-half to three or four times more current at the same cost, without waiting for Boulder Dam to be completed.

Step into The Comfort Zone

SIT back in the rear seat of the 1935 Ford V-8—and change your idea of what an automobile ride is like!

A way has been found to give rear seat passengers the comfort of "a front seat ride!" Ford has done this with a new engineering development—Full-floating Springbase with Comfort Zone Seating.

You might have been satisfied with nothing more than Comfort Zone Riding and the proved Ford V-8 engine together in one car. But the 1935 Ford V-8 offers you many other features almost as important. It is a roomier car—with more leg room—wider, deeper seats. It strikes a new note in streamlined beauty. Interior fittings are almost luxurious. Large, soft-pressure tires are standard. Safety glass all around comes at no extra cost.

And, in addition to low purchase price, the new Ford V-8 gives you traditional Ford economy. It uses no more gas than a 4-cylinder car—has low oil consumption—seldom needs valve grinding or carbon removed.

See this 1935 Ford V-8 today. It's a new automobile value!

GARDEN NOTES

By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

JANUARY and February should be very active months in the garden for this is the time to set out new shrubbery, trees, roses, vines, hedges, flowering plants, fruit trees, berries, grapes—in fact almost everything that grows in the soil.

It is also the time for cleaning up the yard, transplanting, pruning, rearranging the beds, fertilizing, and generally putting the garden in order.

We believe that roses, and all dormant trees and shrubs will burst out into bud early this year on account of early and abundant rains that we have had. Therefore it might be well to start all planting operations early, too. Include in your planting this year some of the new Boysen Berries which are twice as large as Young berries. Also plant a few Cosmo Blackberries, which are very large, sweet and juicy. For this mild climate we recommend planting the new varieties suffer from a condition called "delayed foliage," due to very mild winters. It is a juicy, white peach, with a delicious flavor.

SEASON'S BIG HIT AT ARCADIA THEATRE

"Flirtation Walk," judged by many of the best known critics to be one of the best pictures of the season, will be shown this evening and Saturday for the last time at the Arcadia Theatre, 44 Huntington Drive, Arcadia. In the cast are Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and Pat O'Brien. Showing on the same program is "Jealousy," with Nancy Carroll and Donald Cook. A special added attraction, "Pop Goes My Heart," is to be shown.

Coming Sunday and Monday are Oliver Hardy and Stan Laurel in "Babes in Toyland," and "By Your Leave," with Genevieve Tobin and Frank Morgan. Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Fire Bird," with Verne Teasdale and Ricardo Cortez, and "The Lemon Drop Kid," with Helen Mack and Lee Tracy. "The Last Gentleman," starring George Arliss, and "Caravan," with Loretta Young, Jean Parker, Charles Boyer and Phillip Holmes come to the theatre on Thursday.

Episcopal Woman's Guild Names Heads, Hears Good Reports

Miss Daisy E. Hawks was re-elected president of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension on January 11, at a meeting at the Parish House. Miss Marion Vannier will serve for another term as vice-president. Miss Edna R. Green, as secretary, and Mrs. Thomas Flather will replace Mrs. M. D. Welsher as treasurer.

Mrs. Welsher gave a very fine report of the year's activities. All pledges were met and valuable boxes sent to Alaska and other foreign missions as well as Christmas boxes to the men and women at the County farm.

Mrs. Williams presided at the hour which followed. The guild will hold its regular meeting this afternoon at the Parish House.

DESSERT BRIDGE TO BOOST COSTUME FUND

In order to raise money for the costume fund of the Junior Musical Revue, "What of It," the Junior Woman's Club is entertaining with a dessert bridge at the club house Thursday, January 31. The dessert will be served at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and will be followed by an afternoon of bridge.

Both contract and auction are to be played, and individual table prizes as well as a door prize will be awarded. Those in charge of the affair are Madeline Smith, Mary Davis, Juanita Lannon and Myrna Cant, of the general committee.

Edison Set For Boulder Dam Power

Company Fully Prepared To Distribute New Electric Energy

The Southern California Edison Company today is prepared for Colorado River power, according to a statement of Harry J. Bauer, president of the company, outlining the effect of Boulder Dam generated electric energy on the Edison company's operations.

"The potential addition of Boulder Dam to the electric generating resources of the Edison Company has, in effect, secured the immediate accomplishment of what the ultimate completion of the Colorado River power plants will mean to Southern California, the opening up of new power sources," Mr. Bauer said.

"Our portion of the potential supply of power from the river will take the place on our system of the reserve generating capacity which in the interest of growth and continuity of service we have maintained. It will be many months before the first energy is generated at Boulder Dam, but meanwhile, with this added reserve in prospect, the present surplus capacity of the Edison company becomes immediately available under the most advantageous conditions.

"The Southern California Edison company has been the electrical backbone of Southern California for almost forty years, developing during those years twenty-three hydro-electric generating plants and five steam-electric generating stations, together with the vast network of transmissions and distribution lines that serve electric energy to every part of a large and highly developed section of California. The growth of our company's system to its present capacity for unlimited, complete and economical service to its customers has been essential to and coincident with the orderly development of the natural resources and inherent advantages of this western empire.

"During the past ten years the Southern California Edison Company, with the approval of the California Railroad Commission, has put into effect eleven major rate reductions which amount to a saving to our customers, at the present rate of use of electricity, of more than $6,000,000 each year.

"The company is justly proud of this record of rate reductions, made in the face of rising costs of virtually every other service. We are also proud of the fact that these rate reductions, voluntarily on the part of the company, have been made notwithstanding present tax payments at the rate of more than seven-tenths of a cent for each kilowatt hour sold on our domestic lighting rate. It has always been the policy of this company to pass on to its customers the benefits and savings obtained through increased operating efficiencies and lowered operating costs. Taxation, of course, is another matter, which, like the amount of rain or snow-fall on our watersheds, is an

This Is First Birthday Of Nation's Most Discussed And Fastest Growing Movement--Townsend Old Age Pension

By Mildred Curtis Bolms

The birthday of the most talked-of, the highest-praised and the highest-condemned movement in these vast United States falls due today. It was one short year ago today that the Dr. Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan was brought into being.

Everyone is more or less familiar with the phenomenal development of the crusade since that epochal day. First hundreds, then thousands, and now millions of dazed people were awakened and told that a sane solution of security could be evolved and would be evolved out of the seeming chaos of things.

Faithful followers of the Golden Rule for man such as Dr. Dick, Rev. Dr. Dyer, Frank Hawks, Dr. Clinton Wunder, and the poet laureate of California, John Steven McGroarty, believed in the vision mirrored as Dr. F. E. Townsend unfolded his plan. The fact that there are always disgruntled, critical dissenters to every plan that has ever known the light of day goes back to the time before our Christian era began. It was Aesop, who knew of these frailties and limned them so admirably in his immortal fables, wasn't it? The introduction of every invention in the life of mankind has caused the same furore that the Townsend plan is creating in these "highly-civilized" days of 1935.

In keeping with the westward march of progress, the state of Colorado has memorialized Congress and earnestly urged it to give every consideration to the Townsend Plan when the same is presented for its consideration. Other states are expected to follow.

All loyal adherents of the plan are being urged that now is the time to write letters to Senators and Congressmen in behalf of the early passage of the Dr. Townsend Old Age Pension bill, and to be sure and designate "the Dr. Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension." Every cooperative division of the National headquarters is, also, working with full steam ahead for the accomplishment of this purpose.

In local circles there is a decided note of fervor in the Townsend meetings. During the Monday item over which we, unfortunately for our consumers, have no control. "The company is owned by 123,000 stockholders, most of whom live here in Southern California. We have throughout our long history maintained this individuality of company identity and have, continuously, made every effort to render fully adequate electrical service efficiently and at the lowest possible cost to our consumers."

day session Rev. W. H. Hanna-ford read a reply he has penned in answer to Roger Babson's denunciatory comments on the pension, in addition to a letter upon how he would spend his pension the first six months after its advent. The club made a motion that a letter of sympathy and cheer be sent one of its most faithful workers, Mrs. High, who is seriously ill in a Los Angeles hospital.

Supervisor Legg Denounces Waste In Dam Construction

Stating that the San Gabriel Canyon dam projects represent the greatest losses that county taxpayers have ever sustained, Supervisor Herbert C. Legg roundly denounced the "colossal mistakes" and blunders of the flood control administration in a talk before the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley in La Verne.

"The problem at present," Legg stated, "is to secure an engineer who has not been mixed up in county politics, who can handle the job in the interests of the taxpayers—one who can take the 11 million dollars which remain from the 25 million dollar bond issue voted ten years ago and give us real value for our money. The supervisors have squandered years of time and much of the money put up by the taxpayers."

In presenting figures to back up his charges of waste, Legg said that it would take $25,000 to repair damage on San Gabriel Dam No. 2 before engineers would let work continue.

Champions To Race At Ascot Speedway Sunday Afternoon

The second Pacific Coast championship race of the year will be run at the Legion Ascot speedway Sunday afternoon. It will be a 200-lap event limited to 12 starters. Sharing interest with the main event will be a ten-lap match race between Kelly Petillo, the little Huntington Park Italian, and Rex Mays, the Riverside flash who won the 1934 driving championship of the coast.

Owing to the great length of the feature race there will be no qualifying heat races but the starters and the starting positions will be determined by the qualifying time trials. The helmet dash, the Ascot feature which is a two-lap race for the two fastest qualifying cars, and a five-lap consolation race are also scheduled.

During the afternoon Mays will be awarded the trophy emblematic of the Pacific Coast driving title. The trophy was first put up by the A.A.A. for the winner of the 1929 coast championship. Mel Kenealy winning the honor. Francis Quinn won it in 1930, Ernie Triplett won in 1931 and 1932 and Al Gordon was the 1933 champion. Under the rules the trophy must be won three times to become the property of any one driver.

Sunday's match race between Petillo and Mays should be an interesting event from flag to flag. The 200-lap race will have a fast and evenly balanced field. It is expected that the main going as low as 700 calories for the day. It was found that there is but one harmful feature to this reducing by the calorie count, that being a reduction in the amount of vitamins consumed in the same proportion as the calories. This is believed to be the chief reason why reducing by eating less, invariably causes a weakening of the system, which is rendered less able to combat the many deficiency diseases.

To meet this weakness in the calorie-counting system, the organizer of the class prepared a food product rich in all of the vitamins.

It was a great pride of each member to have the scales in the club weighing each week show a decided loss and a shrinkage in the size of the body—breast, waist or hips. On the other hand, it was a calamity to have the scales reveal a gain in weight after attending two or three parties for the week previous.

The Sierra Reducing System is to be carried out as a National business, as soon as the book is published. This will become a mail business, which seems to have splendid possibilities, and should be a great advertising plan for the city, as well as building up a new payroll here.

The reducing class was disbanded this week, Wednesday.

Each member feels that she has learned many things through the club membership, the most important being the knowledge gained on food control. The health of each member too has been improved in other ways besides just reducing weight.

Swollen joints have disappeared, head-colds and sinus troubles have cleared up—caused by deficiency of Vitamin A, and as one husband remarked, "her disposition has been improved"—happy husband!

New Officers Of DUVCW Installed

MEMBERS of the Louise Severeance Tent No. 65, D.U.V. held the stately installation ceremony of their order January 17, with Sister Margaret French, Department president in charge.

The new officers are, President Minerva Rigney; senior vice-president Lee High; junior vice-president Gretchen Newbery; chaplain, Mary Dickson; treasurer, Maud Ward; council members, Sister Wright and Sister Wammock; patriotic instructor, Augusta Coates; secretary Mary Wammock; press correspondent Lee High; guide, Etta Wright.

Forty guests from neighboring tents assisted at the ceremony and afterward enjoyed a social hour when tea was served at the home of Mrs. Vera Stewart.

Rehearsals Begin For Junior Club's Coming Song Revue

With the commencement of rehearsals Tuesday night of "What Of It?", the Junior Woman's Club's annual song and dance revue began to take shape. From present indications this year's show will be more diverse and entertaining than either "Hey Diddle Diddle" or "The Star Gazers." Dance numbers, again under the direction of Miss Cricket Caukin, will include several quite unusual routines, and the several comedy sketches under the direction of Doug Williams promise much laughter and surprise.

Miss Madeline Loomis and Miss Roberta Scott are pianists for the revue, lighting is being handled by George Otte and John Bridgeland, stage managers are Bus Brain and Bill Fleming, and Genelle Paschall is art director. Cast members are reminded that the skit rehearsals are held every Tuesday and Thursday nights, and dance rehearsals every Monday and Wednesday at the Club House.

Mildred Curtis Bolms AS EVERYONE enjoys a paring for company in her own home, so did the club women of "Outtown" enjoy putting their last plans for Rectitude Day in February in order at Wednesday's session.

So many, many delightful little graces will mark that day, together with such a number of interesting features that, perhaps, we had better hurry right into a brief description. I understand the past presidents will be in the receiving line. And, here, it would be wise to say that the president, Mrs. A. E. Pulling requests all members to be in their seats at five minutes to 11 a.m., and to kindly use the side doors.

The committee in charge of decorations is composed of Mesdames White, Robertson, James, Sandage, Buckingham, and others.

Miss Cynthia Hull will play her arts upon the decoration of the place cards, while Miss Regina Gorty will be assigned the task of arranging the musical program. Mrs. Pulling suggested that each member wear a corsage embracing the club colors, if possible; and those are blue and yellow, you know.

Mrs. O. B. Manchester will be there in oriental garb to discuss "The Orient," a subject with which she is thoroughly familiar.

At this time Mesdames Campbell and Lannon called the attention of the club to the forthcoming dessert bridge to be given by their Juniors on January 31, at 1 o'clock in their own clubrooms. This will be the first time those up-and-doing youngsters have entertained the seniors in their home, so please be there a hundred strong to show appreciation of the courtesy. They are supporting a scholarship, which means that every bit of cooperation is worth its weight in gold.

Mrs. John Osgood announced that an outstanding program will be given at the Forum next Tuesday, the 29th, at which time the City Planning Commission will unfold plans for the beautification of the Central Avenue extension. Mrs. Frances Duncan, secretary of the California Horticultural Association, will be present. This is a vital matter to every resident of what could easily be the most uniformly beautiful community in the country.

Why not play your part in this creative accomplishment?

The discussion of several additional chairmen was brought before the club at this point, and those were Hospitality, Education and Federation. The position of Federation Secretary was suggested for Miss Bolms by the president, but a definite acceptance was held in abeyance by the former.

And now onward under the flying banners of Mrs. O. B. Manchester for the "big" talk of the day! This veritable marching to "follow a secret highway hardly a traveler knows," is an eagerly-anticipated event each club month. For no one can fail to realize how enveloping are the sweeping waves of authoritative information with which this highly-endowed guide surrounds her audience. At the outset of her talk she said:

"That we are in the grip of unpredictable history is obvious to all. The hieroglyphics on every wall show this fact to each and everyone. From the disturbing conditions in Japan where those in high places have 'gone out of their minds,' to the internal strife among the New Dealers, down to that unprecedented individual and his machinations; I am speaking of Huey Long; but here, really, are two distinct sides to that question."

"There is confidence behind those 3,000 'Share-the-Wealth' clubs in Louisiana; faith and co-operation built 300 more miles of good roads, and gave 20 percent more schools to the educational system. While lots of people must have worked constructively together to bring about that thirty-three and one-third percent decrease in taxes!"

Mrs. Manchester likens the whole situation to a closely-woven fabric out of which show bright lines bordering very closely to the color of red.

What is the answer to all of these problems? Well, for one thing, Mrs. Manchester answers, Charles Beard recommends closing the door to all immigrants and putting our house in order for a change. Then the wise men have put their heads together, and have discovered that out of the science of chemistry has come a far better paper from our own Southern pine than from the wood pulp of the Canadian forests.

Also that the soya bean, from which emanates everything from a rubber tire to a spring hat, can be grown to advantage in the wheat country of the Middle West.

Studying the natural resources in this manner should be of material assistance in helping the Nation to ascend the upgrade, as Sir Arthur Salter maintains we are doing.

One of the most searching books upon the European question is "European Journey," by Sir Phillip Gibbs. This is one of the most comprehensive surveys

Fire Flames

By Helen Lovejoy

WHILE the firemen were in special session considering plans for the Wistaria Fete on Friday night the young cloud-burst or storm broke loose and the rain on the roof of the loft sounded like hail stones on the old tin barn. This meant trouble for Hays and Swanson of the street department, so they immediately retired from the crowd. Central avenue looked like the river Jordan on a rampage.

The first big job for Hays was to watch the water carrying away some of his recently leveled streets. Endeavoring to stop some of the damage, Marion was hastily placing sand bags to divert the water. With a large bag in his arms, his left foot slipped and threw him into the strongest current of the stream. So swift and deep was the water that Hays was dragged for several feet before he could be rescued by Swanson and Joe Allimillo.

But Hays soon had an opportunity to return the laugh, for just a little later Joe Swanson's foot slipped and he, too, was being carried away by the swift waters. This really looked serious, for Joe was floating toward an open drain. Only the heroic efforts of his helpmates prevented Joe from being picked up somewhere down in the San Gabriel Valley.

CHOIR ON AN OUTING RUNS INTO BLIZZARD

Rev. Father Hyacinth Clarey took the members of St. Rita's Choir to Los Angeles County Playgrounds for the weekend. The party left early Friday morning and returned Sunday night. They encountered a blizzard Friday evening and a heavy snowfall on Saturday. Winter sports were enjoyed by the party, which included 15 persons.

LEGION TO SPONSOR ST. VALENTINE DANCE

WANT CALIFORNIA STREET EXTENDED

Extension of California street from Pasadena to Sierra Madre avenue in Arcadia has been suggested by Pasadena civic workers as a means of splitting the heavy traffic to and from the Santa Anita race track. A map has been prepared to show the advantages of making the thoroughfare a through street, and it is shown that the project would lessen the present heavy traffic burden on Colorado and Walnut streets, entering Pasadena.

OBITUARY

MRS. WINIFRED SHAW

Mrs. Winifred D. Shaw, of Sierra Madre Villa, one of the oldest settlers of this community passed away on Monday. She is survived by her husband, A. B. Shaw; one son, Arvin B. Shaw, Jr., and two daughters, Genevieve W. Shaw and Myra Shaw Rogers. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 o'clock in Hollywood. Mrs. Helen Sadler Starr was soloist at the services.

LOCAL GIRLS ENTERTAIN

GUESTS AT LOS ANGELES The annual program for the Rancho Los Amigos at Hondo was presented on Saturday by five junior clubs in Los Angeles District Federation. The local club appeared on the program with several numbers. Taking part were Miss Cricket Caukin, Miss Mary Davis, Miss Roberta Scott, Miss Ruth Klunk, Grace Jensen and Mary Lou Lovejoy. Mrs. John H. Robertson had charge of the program.

so far, and do not read it if you are expecting a bedtime story. But if you are looking for a deep insight into the affairs of the old world, by all means, procure this book.

"An Experiment in Autobiography," by H. G. Wells, who has probably done more with the aid of Shaw to mold the morals of people for the last 25 years than any other writer, is an interesting book aside from its naive expose of domestic relations. "American Song," by Paul Engle expresses a new voice in poetry—a vigorous, virile, not unpleasant, voice that is bound to be heard ere long.

"A Village In A Valley," by Beverly Nichols, is a lovely, sweet book of great understanding, very similar in its mood to "Where Nothing Ever Happens," by Shippey. And this latter book will be reviewed next month.

Remember that Mrs. Lawless and Miss Jamison will repeat their speeches next Wednesday, Milton Steinberger on Mariposa the 30th, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Avenue.

INVESTORS:—

Many investors are confronted with serious investment problems during these times. They usually adopt a let-alone policy, based on hope, merely for lack of responsible information and advice. In more cases than not this results in further loss of principal or income or both.

My business is to assist others on investment matters by making intelligent recommendations which investors of sound judgment will recognize as such. If you want big income and quick profits my services are of no value to you. On the other hand, if you are satisfied with a dependable income, safety, and better than average probability of regaining your losses, my services will prove decidedly of value to you. There is no cost and you are under no obligation.

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE ON FORECLOSURE No. 380852

W. P. CALEY and MARY D. CALEY, husband and wife, Plaintiffs, —vs.— CHARLES S. KERSTING, Defendant.

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles—

By the judgment and decree of the above entitled court in the above entitled action, entered and recorded on the 26th day of December, 1934, in judgment book 900 at page 40, et seq., wherein the above named plaintiff obtained judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale for the sum of eleven thousand eight hundred and fifty and 52/100 Dollars, plus interest and costs, to which judgment and decree reference is hereby made, and by order of sale issued to me by the clerk of the said court pursuant thereto, I am commanded to sell at public auction all of the following described premises, situate, lying and being in the City of Sierra Madre, County of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Lot seven (7) of the Kersting Tract, as per map recorded in Book 26, Page 9 of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said County.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, the 29th day of January, 1935, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, at the eastern and Spring Street entrance of the Los Angeles County Hall of Justice, in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, and State of California, I will sell the above described property, or so much thereof as may be required in compliance with the said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, to the highest and best bidder for cash.

R. E. ALLEN, Commissioner appointed by said Court.

Congressman Tells What Lies Ahead Of The Townsend Bill

(Continued from Page One) But we feel that we can secure the necessary 218 signatures. Indeed, I have almost complete assurance now that we will be able to do so.

If a bill is presented to carry the President's old age pension plan into effect, we shall move to amend the bill by substituting the Townsend Plan for the President's plan.

Shippey Is Guest
Of Noted Writers
Then Is Stricken

The country's most prominent writers came from the four parts of Southern California's literary world to the Writers Club in Hollywood January 17, to pay homage to Lee Shippey, Sierra Madre columnist and author. Nearly three hundred notable scribes were present at the banquet, and all who were given the opportunity spoke in high praise of the Sierra Madrean's new book "Where Nothing Ever Happens"—a saga of small town drama, set in "Ourville."

Shippey, who is vice president of the Writers, was seated at the table of honor with Rupert Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Disney, Mae Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ogden Stewart. As he himself says, "It was just about the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me."

Either as a result of, or despite the banquet, the entire Shippey family—Mr. and Mrs. and several of the junior Shippeys—were laid up with the gripe over the weekend. Shippey was unable to appear as guest speaker at the Forum meeting Tuesday night, being confined to his home until yesterday.

Step into
The Comfort Zone

SIT back in the rear seat of the 1935 Ford V-8—and change your idea of what an automobile ride is like! Aways has been found to give rear passengers the comfort of a front seat ride! Ford has done this with a new engineering development—full-floating Springbase with Comfort Zone Seating. You might have been satisfied with nothing more than Comfort Zone Riding and the proved Ford V-8 engine together in one car. But the 1935 Ford V-8 offers you many other features almost as important. It is a roomier car—with more leg room—wider, deeper seats. It strikes a new note in streamlined beauty. Interior fittings are almost luxurious. Large, soft-pressure tires are standard. Safety glass all around comes at no extra cost. And, in addition to low purchase price, the new Ford V-8 gives you traditional Ford economy. It uses no more gas than a 4-cylinder car—has low oil consumption—seldom needs valve grinding or carbon removed. See this 1935 Ford V-8 today. It's a new automobile value!

INVESTORS:—

Many investors are confronted with serious investment problems during these times. They usually adopt a let-alone policy, based on hope, merely for lack of responsible information and advice. In more cases than not this results in further loss of principal or income or both.

My business is to assist others on investment matters by making intelligent recommendations which investors of sound judgment will recognize as such. If you want big income and quick profits my services are of no value to you. On the other hand, if you are satisfied with a dependable income, safety, and better than average probability of regaining your losses, my services will prove decidedly of value to you. There is no cost and you are under no obligation.
